Summary

As an Interior Designer, I was responsible for developing functional and aesthetic spatial concepts, creating technical drawings and 3D visualizations, and ensuring that every design aligned with the client's needs and brand identity. I collaborated closely with project teams and vendors, conducted site surveys, selected materials and finishes, and supervised on-site implementation to ensure the final result met design standards and project timelines.

2023 i began my career as a Designer, creating visual concepts, layouts, and technical materials that supported the company's brand identity and operational needs. Over time, my role expanded into Procurement, where I managed the sourcing of materials and services, evaluated and negotiated with vendors, and ensured quality and on-time delivery. This combination of creative and procurement experience strengthened my project coordination abilities, improved operational efficiency, and ensured every execution met the company's standards.

Kopo- Bandung

the beauty in the clinic room certainly builds the mood between doctor and patient. Therefore, the design made refers to the comfort of the layout without reducing the function of space and the ease of maintenance of space.

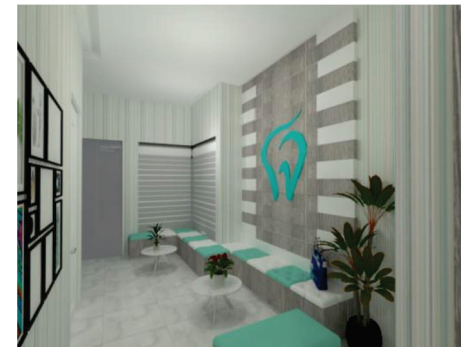

I use mirrors in several spots to expand the ward and help shape the atmosphere.

ENT Clinic

Dental Clinic “Lobby”

the clinic lobby is the face of the clinic. I use bluish green and white colors combined with light wood motifs. These colors complement the eclectic design that I carry in this design. The intended atmosphere is a beautiful, clean room reflecting health facilities.

Budget

budget is one important thing that influences design. in this project. Driven by a budget, I use a lot of atmosphere & decorations that form a beautiful design without having to remove excess badges

Design

The design that is used as a reference during the design process is the function of space and by utilizing the panoramic view of the hill, the design is complete. Of course, the decorative elements beautify the designed space.
